Move Aimed At Combating Communism

Want Crackdown
On Subversives

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemala's armed forces ousted President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes on Sunday in a swift coup aimed at cracking down harder on Communists.

The 67-year-old president—himself a leader of the Central American anti-Communist, anti-Castro movement—was flown in an air force plane to Nicaragua, where he declared: "What is going on in Guatemala is for her own good and for the good of the rest of Central America."

The deposed president's cronies in the government made plain they felt they could do a better job than Ydigoras in combating Communist infiltration and subversion in the populous Central American republic.

The coup apparently was touched off by the secret return from exile Friday night of leftist former President Juan Jose Arevalo to attempt a political comeback.

Ydigoras' wife accompanied him into exile.

Ydigoras, 67, is a former general who would have completed next spring a six-year term in the presidency, to which he was elected by Guatemala's Congress on Feb. 12, 1958.

Tanks rumbled in the capital's streets and warplanes droned overhead in martial accompaniment to the Sabbath pealing of Roman Catholic church bells. The nation was reported calm.

Col. Enrique Peralta Azurdia, Ydigoras' defense minister since Dec. 6, 1960, took over as chief executive with powers to rule by decree.

Peralta, who in the past has helped Ydigoras crush a series of riots, revolts and assassination plots, pledged to surrender the presidential chair after elections, at an unspecified date that he said will be held in "an effective, democratic climate." It was he who, told a news conference that Ydigoras had been exiled to Nicaragua.

Hospital authorities said two persons were killed and two wounded in a shooting in the downtown area late Saturday night that Peralta blamed on misunderstandings.

The new chief of state told a news conference that there was almost no resistance from Ydigoras.

He said three military officers went to the Casa Crema, the president's home, and demanded his resignation. The air force held Ydigoras and his wife until they were put aboard the plane for Nicaragua about 10:15 a.m.

There was no information on the whereabouts of leftist former President Juan Jose Arevalo, whose secret return Friday night from exile in Mexico apparently was one of the sparks which set off the Sunday coup.

A sudden, sharp clash in the downtown area shortly before midnight apparently was a prelude to the switch in the government of this scenic country that was once the land of the Mayas. Rifles and machine guns went into action. Bombs and rockets exploded.

The coup was announced in a radio broadcast backgrounded by martial music. The army, air force and navy were declared united behind Peralta "to defend Guatemala from the threat of communism." Soldiers established guard posts at strategic points.

Britain Joins U. S. In Curbs On Cuba Raids

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Britain joined the United States Sunday in new efforts to thwart exile attacks on Cuba. The U. S. moves also drew support from Democratic and Republican congressional leaders who feared anti-Castro raids might drag the nation into armed conflict.

U. S. officials confirmed that the British government had agreed to increase its vigilance in the Caribbean. There was no elaboration, but informed sources in London said the British frigate London had been ordered from Bermuda to patrol the Bahama Islands.

The London sources said British authorities in the Caribbean would "do anything possible to prevent the use of British territory for illicit purposes."

Anti-Castro raiders are suspected of using isolated keys in the Bahamas, a British colony, as bases for attacks on Cuba.

The United States, using additional men, ships and planes, imposed new restraints on Cuban exile activities on U. S. territory.

Narcotics Ring Is Broken In Boston Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Narcotics has broken up a Boston narcotics ring that since 1949 brought in more than a ton of heroin worth an estimated $360 million.

Henry L. Giordano, head of the bureau, told a House Appropriations subcommittee about the ring March 6. The testimony was released Sunday.

He said the case involved Joseph Sax, a prominent criminal attorney in Boston, Joseph Massa of Boston and other associates. Since the traffic started in 1949, he said, they brought into the country more than 1,000 kilograms of heroin, or 2,200 pounds.

Rep. J. Vaughan Gary, D-Va., asked for an estimate of what that much heroin would bring in at the retail level, where it reaches the addict in highly adulterated form.

Deputy Commissioner Charles Siragusa said the wholesale value of 1,000 kilograms would be $18 million. By the time it is sold at retail, he said, the pure heroin is cut so that the end product contains only five per cent heroin.

On that basis he estimated the retail value would be $360 million.

In another big case the bureau handled last year U. S. agents helped Thailand authorities seize nearly two tons of opium at Lampang, Thailand.

Most of this, Giordano said, came from Yunnan Province in Communist China.

Six Skiers Die In Avalanches

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Six skiers were killed by avalanches roaring down snow-laden slopes of the Austrian Tyrol Sunday. Five more were missing and believed dead.

Nine skiers—seven West Germans and two Austrians—were buried by a giant avalanche in the area of the Kematen hut. Police reported four bodies had been recovered.

Two other skiers were found dead in the Oetzal and Sellrain valleys.

The avalanches were caused by heavy snowfalls.

Helicopters airlifted 40 soldiers, search dogs and oxygen masks to the Kematen accident site about 15 miles west of Innsbruck.

It was the worst avalanche accident in Austria this season as winter kept an icy grip on the Tyrol. The known death toll this season is 34.

End Is Seen To Deadlock In Cleveland

All-Night Session
Sees Agreement
On New Pact

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Negotiators for the striking printers union and management representatives agreed on a new contract Sunday. It could bring an end to the record 122-day-old strike against the Plain Dealer and the Cleveland Press and News by Thursday or Friday.

However, two unions remain on strike, the Teamsters, who started the newspaper blackout when they walked off the job Nov. 29, and the Machinists Union.

The settlement, subject to ratification by the 620 printers, was worked out at City Hall during a 14½-hour bargaining session which lasted through the night. The ratification meeting probably will come Wednesday or Thursday.

No details were disclosed by Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who acted as mediator.

Smiling and apparently refreshed by the good tidings, the mayor told a news conference: "Settlement has been agreed upon between the publishers and the printers. The last obstacle has now been removed to publication."

The Teamsters agreed to terms conditionally a month ago and final details of the contract reportedly were being worked out.

However, a source close to the negotiations said the contract has not been signed and the Teamsters, who withdrew their pickets a few weeks ago, could "be back out on strike again in a few days."

Management and the strike Machinists Union are to meet on Monday at the office of Federal Mediator Gilbert J. Seldin.

First Family Pays Visit To Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy motored Sunday across the ridges and fields where the Battle of Gettysburg turned the tide of the Civil War a century ago.

For their daughter, Caroline, 5, there was something of a lesson in history. She went along and so did Paul Fay, his wife and their three children.

Fay is undersecretary of the Navy, and the Fays are weekend guests of the Kennedys at Camp David, the presidential retreat high in the Catocin Mountains near Thurmont, Md.

They spent the better part of two hours at the historic battlefield in southern Pennsylvania, looking at such history-book places as Cemetery Ridge, Seminary Ridge, and the "Bloody Angle," the high water mark of the Confederacy. It was there that Pickett's charge reached its farthest advance into the Union lines.

Along the western edge of the battlefield stretches the farm of another president, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, but the Kennedys didn't drop in. The Eisenhowers are in California.

Sen. H. F. Byrd To Be Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., will be honored Tuesday night at a testimonial dinner in recognition of his 30 years in congress.

About 300 are expected to attend the affair being given at the National Press Club under the sponsorship of Reader's Digest Magazine which features an article on Byrd in its April issue.

Among those scheduled to speak are Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson; Sen. Mike Mansfield, the senate majority leader from Montana; Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the minority leader from Illinois; Virginia's Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr.; Virginia Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch; and Hobar Lewis, executive editor of Reader's Digest.

President Expected To Block Nationwide Strike On Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is expected to step in this week to block for 60 days the threat of a nationwide railroad strike.

The mandate of a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision is due to become effective today, leaving the railroads free to announce the manpower cuts they have been urging for nearly four years to realize some $600 million in annual savings.

Five unions representing 200,000 rail operating employees are ready to call a strike to coincide with the effective date of the industry's job cuts.

Kennedy may not even wait for the unions to set a formal strike date before declaring an emergency under terms of the Railway Labor Act. This involves naming a special board to study the problem and make settlement recommendations in 30 days, after which both sides must negotiate for another 30-day period.

The President is reported ready to name a group of prominent citizens to serve on the board which is likely to spend more time trying to settle the controversy than in attempting to assess the long-debated issues anew.

Kennedy's board quite likely will accept most of the recommendations made after a full year study by a 15-man commission named by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The commission recommended eventual elimination of some 40,000 firemen on freight and yard trains. About 13,000 of this number would be subject to early discharge. The rest would not be replaced when they retired or died.

The unions have some demands of their own, including reduced work hours, a guaranteed annual wage, paid holidays and night shift differentials. Besides the firemen, the unions include organizations of locomotive engineers, conductors, trainmen and switchmen.

The brunt of the job cuts recommended by the former commission would go against firemen but the unions maintain they will stick together in the forthcoming showdown.

If the railroads win eventually the right to cut train crews, they probably will have to agree to an elaborate set of layoff benefits, also recommended by the commission.

Italy Builds Oil Tanker For Soviet Union

GENOA, Italy (AP)—"In the name of God, I name you Leonardo da Vinci," the Roman Catholic chaplain intoned as ceremonies began to launch the giant new Soviet tanker.

After Chaplain Don Giulio Parodi pronounced the ritual, the wife of the Soviet Trade envoy to Rome, Valentina Kuznetsova, broke a bottle of champagne against the big steel prow.

The Leonardo is the first of six 48,000-ton tankers being built at Italy's Ansaldo shipyards for the Soviet Union's growing petroleum fleet. She will have a capacity for about 50,000 tons of crude oil.

The name of Da Vinci, famed Italian artist and engineer, is inscribed in Russian Cyrillic letters on the tanker's prow.

"We chose an Italian name for two reasons," said Vladimir Stulov, chief of a Soviet technician team here to supervise construction.

"First, to pay tribute to the nation which built it.

"Second, to encourage the Italian workers to hand over to us a perfectly built ship."

The Leonardo da Vinci is the largest diesel-powered ship ever built at the shipyards here. It was ordered, with five other tanks of the same size, in a contract signed in Moscow on Nov. 10, 1961.

The six vessels will cost $48 million.

Ansaldo shipyards is a state-owned enterprise.

Philanthropist Dies At Age 87

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Samuel Paley, philanthropist and retired industrialist, died at his home here Sunday. He was 87.

Paley, born in Brovary, near Kiev, Russia, founded the Congress Cigar Co., in 1896. He served as its president and chief executive until his retirement several years ago.

He also served on the board of directors of the Columbia Broadcasting System from 1930 until 1960. His son William, currently is the board's chairman.

114-Day Blackout
Ends With New Contracts Signed

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York newspaper strike is over. The city's record 114-day blackout of eight newspapers ended Sunday as the last of four striking unions accepted a new contract with publishers.

The first paper back on the newsstands was the Daily Mirror. About 100 persons converged on a Times Square newsstand and purchased 250 copies of the Mirror within a few minutes. Others waited for more. The other three morning papers were expected to be back on the streets later.

The blackout cost the city's economy an estimated $250 million, deprived some five million readers of their regular daily papers and idled more than 19,000 newspaper employees. Jubilantly, the workers began returning to their jobs when the settlement was announced.

The last union to settle was the AFL-CIO Photoengravers Union Local 1, which has only 320 members on the papers but whose reluctance to agree to a formula accepted by the 9,000-member printers union and seven other craft unions prolonged the shutdown by four days.

One newspaper, the New York Daily Mirror, announced the settlement in a resounding 21-gun salute which cracked the air over the Palisades Amusement Park on the Jersey side of the Hudson River.

Some plants sent out hurried calls for motion picture stars and other celebrities to join in ceremonies formally reactivating presses that stood idle during the long strike.

The end of the strike came with the photoengravers still reluctant, but acting "solely because of a profound sense of responsibility to the public." They abandoned their demand for a 75-minute cut in the work week on all shifts and voted 213-104 to accept a two-year settlement within the framework of the $12.63 package offered the other craft unions.

In doing so, they reversed a decision taken last Wednesday, when by a vote of 191-111 they turned down a similar settlement negotiated within the same framework.

Publishers had warned before Sunday's vote that a second rejection would prolong the strike indefinitely—that there was nothing on which to negotiate further.

Mayor's Formula

The $12.63 settlement formula had been worked out by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who proposed it in mediating the marathon labor dispute that originally led to the newspaper shutdown—the strike of AFL-CIO International Typographical Union printers.

By their action, the engravers followed the precedent set by the printers, who first turned the proposed settlement down before accepting it a week later.

Wagner, who laid aside all but the most important city business for 65 days to mediate the complicated dispute, told a news conference this was a great day not only for newspaper employees but for the public.

Lesson Learned

Bertram A. Powers, head of Local 6 of the ITU, which has 3,000 members on the city's papers, said of the settlement: "In the future, I hope the method of negotiations improves so that we can gain our legitimate objectives

Jet Lands
Safely

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—A Trans-Canada Airlines DC-8 jet with 139 persons aboard made a safe emergency landing at McDill Air Force base Sunday following a landing gear malfunction.

Ray Allison, a supervisor for Trans-Canada, said there were 131 passengers aboard the plane and a crew of eight.

The plane, Flight 881, left the Tampa airport at 12:30 p.m. EST on a flight to Toronto. Allison said the pilot first noticed a low reading on the hydraulic pressure indicator about 1 p.m. and immediately turned back to Tampa.

He said the pilot, identified as Capt. J. K. Davis of Toronto, decided to attempt the emergency landing at MacDill Field because of better emergency facilities there.

The FAA tower said Davis corrected the hydraulic pressure trouble through use of an emergency pump. The landing gear was lowered without trouble and the plane made a smooth landing.

The plane circled the Tampa area for more than two hours before making the landing.

Plan Picketing

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Sixteen persons, arrested during integration demonstrations in this Eastern Shore community Saturday, were still in jail Sunday, and indicated they would remain there until their hearing Thursday.

Two of the Negroes incarcerated are charged with disorderly conduct. Police say they entered a segregated movie theater with tickets apparently purchased for them by white sympathizers and refused to leave when asked to do so.

Another fifteen persons were arrested when they attempted to enter a segregated roller rink. The rink, operated by the Cambridge Rescue Fire Co., had been guarded by volunteer firemen as pickets paraded before its doors. A fire in an electronics firm on nearby U.S. 50 forced the firemen to leave their posts, police said, and it was then the demonstrators attempted to enter.

State's Atty. C. Burnham Mace charged the 15 with attempting to incite a riot, disorderly conduct and failure to obey a police officer. Fourteen of them refused to post bond totaling $300 each, as did the two arrested in the theater. All were held for hearings Thursday.

A spokesman for the Civic Interest Group and the Cambridge Non-Violent Action Committee, which sponsored Saturday's demonstration, said demonstrators would return to Cambridge this coming Saturday to renew their protest against segregated places of public accommodations and segregated employment practices. CIG maintains the mayor and city council of Cambridge have refused to make any effort to desegregate the city.

Move Aimed

(Continued from Page 1) Congress was dissolved. The constitution was suspended. All political activity was ordered halted. The people were urged to remain calm. All airports, shut down by Ydigoras under a state of siege order, remained closed and international flights were canceled. The new regime pledged to respect Guatemala's international commitments.

The coup capped weeks of unrest in this coffee-growing Central American republic of 3.8 million predominantly Indian people, which has been marked by about 60 revolt plots since the early 1940s.

Walter N. Thayer, president of the Herald Tribune and unofficial spokesman for the publishers, told reporters he hoped there never again would be such a strike. "I don't think we could stand it," he said.

"We must learn some lessons from this strike," he said. "The negotiating machinery on both sides must be improved, and there should be no piecemeal bargaining. That is the prime lesson learned."

In an academic sidelight, the AFL-CIO Paper Handlers and Sheet Straighteners Union Local 1, which was not striking, voted Sunday to ratify a two-year contract with the publishers. The paper handlers, who have 375 members on the papers, had reached a tentative settlement March 23 under the $12.63 formula and planned to return to work once the strike was settled.

And Local 2 of the Printing Pressmen's Union, which was not on strike, became the last of the 10 newspaper unions to agree on a new contract with the papers Sunday afternoon. The new contract, falling within the $12.63 chief's attempts to dictate foreign framework, was approved 626-150, policy.

Israel's Security Chief
Quits Following Dispute

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP)—The man who plotted the capture of Adolf Eichmann resigned Sunday as chief of Israel's security services in a dispute with Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion over the issue of German scientists reported working for the United Arab Republic.

His name was not disclosed, nor was that of his successor.

His resignation followed the capture of two alleged Israeli agents in Switzerland earlier this month, accused of conspiracy to kidnap a German missile scientist employed by the U.A.R.

A government spokesman said the security chief had submitted his resignation last Monday after Ben-Gurion refused to accept the security chief's "political evaluation" of the crisis over Israeli charges that West German scientists are helping the U.A.R. build an arsenal with which to attack Israel.

It is understood here that Ben-Gurion objected to what he considered the outgoing security chief's attempts to dictate foreign framework, was approved 626-150, policy.

The resignation was accepted at a cabinet meeting. Ben-Gurion called to give his ministers a review of the work German scientists are reported doing in the field of armaments on behalf of President Nasser's government, avowed enemy of Israel.

Under the anonymous outgoing security chief, Israeli agents tracked Eichmann to Argentina in 1960, kidnaped him and spirited him to Israel to stand trial for his role in Nazi Germany's slaughter of millions of European Jews. Eichmann was found guilty and hanged two years later.

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 259 Maj. Gen. Thomas C. Hindman, C.S.A., failed at Prairie Grove in December 1862 to check the advance of Maj. Gen. Sam Curtis through the Hindman family's political bailiwick, Arkansas. Hindman couldn't keep his men holding their lines. An entire regiment of his newly raised Arkansas militia deserted.

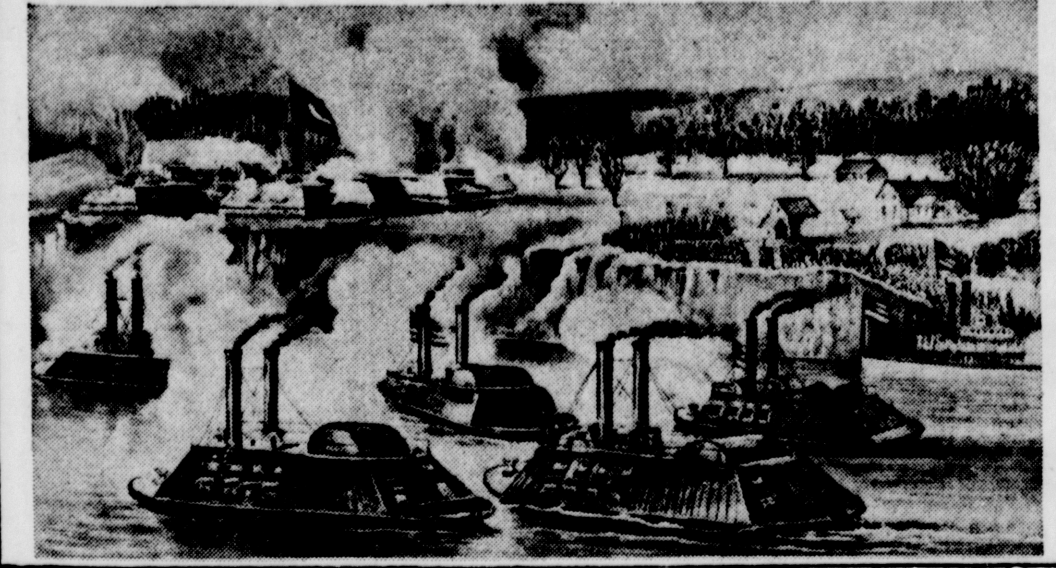

The garrison of Fort Hindman, at Arkansas Post, on the Arkansas River, was no more effective against an amphibious assault a short time later. On Jan. 11, 1863, Maj. Gen. John A. McClernand, who had 30,000 men and David D. Porter's flotilla of gunboats, attacked Fort Hindman, 50 miles up the Arkansas River. It was an irregular operation McClernand had undertaken, with Lincoln's approval, independently of Grant's newly launched campaign against Vicksburg. McClernand believed the reduction of Fort Hindman necessary to prevent Confederates from sending gunboats down the Arkansas into the Mississippi.

Coming after the blow to Grant's base at Holly Springs, and Sherman's defeat at Chickasaw Bluffs in late December, the capture of Fort Hindman with 5,000 Rebels gave Union supporters a fortuitous boost in morale.

The bidding has proceeded:

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A—Three no trump. This is not much of a hand and partner's bid is not forcing. Nevertheless, you should decline to give up the ghost at this point. Whereas your one no trump bid promised six points in high cards, you have seven plus two rather impressive 10s. Furthermore, you have all suits stopped and, while in some cases the contract rates to be defeated, the occasional game you will score will more than compensate for the slight losses.

Q. 2—Your partner has opened with one spade and you hold:

♠43 ♥A3 ♦AK4 ♣AQ10754

What is your response?

A—A jump shift to three clubs is our choice, despite the fact that we have no special support for spades. This hand is worth 19 points and, unless the jump shift is made, it will be almost impossible to show the full strength of the hand on subsequent rounds.

What do you bid now?

A—With a void in diamonds considerably more than you might have had for a minimum opening, and you should do something other than make the mere routine bid of four spades, which would be a forced bid. The suggested call is a bid of four diamonds. This will not indicate a desire to play in the minor suit, since your major suit has been vigorously supported. It will merely serve as a mild suggestion for a slam, without incurring any additional expense. If partner is not interested, he will make the mere routine return to four spades.

The lone survivor, the husband and father, Gerald Prymer, 29, was reported in critical condition.

The dead are: Barbara Prymer, 30; and the five Prymer children —Bonnie Sue, 4; Charles Edmund, 3; Genevieve, 2; Dorothy, 1; and John, 3 weeks old.

Authorities said a preliminary investigation indicated the fire broke out near an oil burner in the cellar.

Six Members Same Family Die In Fire

Japanese Doctors Planning Conference

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—It won't pay to get sick or break a leg in Japan this week. You may not find a doctor—unless you live in Osaka.

A third of the country's medical men will be coming to Osaka on Monday for the Japan medical congress held every fourth year.

About 35,000 Japanese doctors and 45 noted specialists from abroad will attend the conference.

There are more than three million amateur movie makers in the United States.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—The very alive career of Keir Dullea is headed straight for the cemetery, meaning hell star in that most famous of funeral satires, "The Loved One," by Evelyn Waugh.

When Keir called me from New York his enthusiasm made him sound even more out of this world. "It's to be my first under my new deal with Filmways," said the young man few had heard of before "David and Lisa" and "The Hoodlum Priest."

While I was congratulating him, he interrupted, "Don't hang up. I have more news. On April 4, Shirley Knight and I appear on an Alcoa TV show, 'The Broken Year.' We think it is so good that Shirley's husband, Gene Person, and I have formed a company to make it as a film." He added he thought Shirley is the "most exciting actress I know."

A very nice boy, this young man whose name rhymes with "here today."

I have very little respect for Elizabeth Montgomery's word. I had heard, as had everyone else, that she and Gig Young were not getting along. I called her to check, and she denied there was any trouble. At this time she had been secretly divorced from Gig since January!

She pretended he was living in the house when he was not, and begged that I please, please not print anything. She said she did not want any gossip to upset her mother.

I've known Liz since she was a little girl—also her mother when she was married to Robert Montgomery—so I didn't print anything about a rift even though I had been reliably informed she was in love with a TV producer and her marriage to Gig was at an end. Next time I'll know better than to telephone Miss Montgomery checking on anything—I'll just print what I know to be true.

With all the hubbub going on in Washington with the Harris committee's investigating into TV rating systems, producer writer-director Don McGuire is a grave young man going ahead with his movie "The Number Game," an "expose" of TV ratings.

And I mean EXPOSE. Don's leading character is a wheeler-dealer who deals ratings off the bottom, giving high ones to sponsors he likes, low ones to programs that won't play ball with him. This won't delight the rating boys, you can bet.

Don insists that his plot is purely fictional—but he has done so much research on it and has so

Lord Home Is Ill On Nippon Visit

KYOTO, Japan (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Lord Home canceled his sightseeing schedule in this ancient capital Sunday.

Officials said he had a cold and "slight fever." A Japanese Foreign Ministry official accompanying Home's party said Home is expected to resume his schedule Monday. He arrived in Japan last Thursday for a nine-day official visit.

Pair Arrested In Counterfeit Case

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A Burmese man and a Chinese woman have been arrested for possession of seven counterfeit U.S. $100 bills, press reports said.

The U.S. Embassy said a reported $150,000 in counterfeit U.S. bills has been shipped here from Hong Kong, but apparently none is in circulation.

Stage Walkout

TOKYO (AP)—Railway and bus workers seeking higher wages staged a nationwide walkout Sunday depriving an estimated 13 million persons of transportation.

Railroad Completed

PORT ETIENNE, Mauritania (AP)—A 403-mile railroad linking the Fort Gouraud iron mines with this Atlantic port has been finished more than three months ahead of schedule. It is expected to carry more than six million tons of high-grade ore annually.

Neckties, formerly known as cravats, were first worn extensively in Europe during the French Revolution.

Tuberculosis takes an annual toll of about 20 thousand lives in the United States.

Stamp Worth $2,500

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — A Hamilton woman has been offered $2,500 for her three-penny Bermuda stamp that shows a blank, colorless outline of Government House against the blue sky.

Postmaster Aubrey Manuel said it came from a corner of a 60-stamp sheet and there might be as many as 11 more in circulation.

The largest bull African elephants stand up to 13 feet, two inches at the shoulder and may reach more than 11 tons in weight.

ARE YOU MAKING THE ANTI-ACID MISTAKE? Important News for Every INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, INTESTINAL GAS SUFFERER!

Now, for the first time you can apply the brakes to stomach distress before the trouble begins. Up to now, anti-acids have been used mostly to relieve stomach upset after suffering the pangs of distress. Now, thanks to a new, natural formulation called MIAZYME you may eliminate the discomforts of indigestion, heartburn and intestinal gas caused by poor digestion of foods.

If you properly digest the food you eat, chances are you will not suffer stomach distress. This is because of the action of enzymes, manufactured in the digestive process. When these enzymes fall below par—as age increases, enzymatic action may become inadequate, or, as medical science knows, today's fast, hectic living pace can create distress caused by stomach tensions—you are apt to suffer indigestion, gas, bloating, heartburn, cramps and other uncomfortable forms of stomach upset.

Why risk making the anti-acid mistake? Just two MIAZYME capsules a day is all it takes to help

Leak Poses Puzzle

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — Investigating a report that the roof of a shipping building was leaking, Bill Waldman, a maintenance man for a packaging corporation, climbed to the top of the building.

He was a little puzzled how a roof that cluttered could leak. On it he found a baseball, basketball, rubber ball, bus company money changer, portion of a red warning flasher, three flashlights, remains of a small savings bank,
tin snips and some beer bottles.

What's In A Name?

MILTON, Fla. (AP) — This northwest Florida town has a nice, solid, name, but it wasn't always so.

The first settlers, possibly plagued by mosquitoes, named their community Scratch Ankle.
Some years later they changed the name to Hard Scrabble. The present name was finally chosen in honor of an early settler, Milton Amos.

Fastest Train

TOKYO (AP)—An electric train due to start operations next fall has been clocked at 160 miles per hour in test runs. Officials announced. Plans call for six-coach trains to cover the 322 miles between Tokyo and Osaka in three hours, averaging 111 m.p.h.

Southern Pine

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — One of the earliest and most famous uses of Southern Pine was for decking of our fledgling nation's frigates.

Today, Southern Pine "decking" is widely used in roof systems of glamorous plank-and-beam homes.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm about to enter the man's apartment, not a prude, nor am I the type to poke my nose into other people's business, but I value your opinion and would like your views.

A friend of mine who is single and in her middle thirties has her own apartment. This friend is acquainted with a rather attractive gentleman about 40. He is a bachelor and has an apartment in the same building. I live in the building, too — down the hall from the gentleman.

The other evening I came home later than usual — about 11:00 p. m. I was shocked to see this woman, dressed for bed, nightgown, bathrobe, and slippers just

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I married a widow three years ago. My wife passed away in 1956, the same year her husband died.

My own two sons have graduated from college and are on their own. My wife's two sons are 11 and 14 years of age. I love her boys as much as I love my own. They are devoted to me and we have a wonderful relationship.

I want to adopt my wife's sons legally and change their name to mine. My wife is against it because she's afraid her former father-in-law will cut the boys out of his will if they do not carry on his family name. (They are the last of his heirs.)

While there is considerable wealth there I don't feel this is important. I am well able to support these boys, educate them and do all the necessary things. My pride is involved. What do you say? — DAD

DEAR DAD: Your sons will carry on your family name. It is not unreasonable for this grandfather to want his son's boys to carry on his family name.

Unless the boys express a strong desire to have their names changed, I recommend that you disregard the financial advantages and respect the old gentleman's wishes.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are fond of Mr. and Mrs. X. They are a working couple, as we are, and often the four of us have dinner together.

Mrs. X has a habit which I find embarrassing. My husband says its ridiculous for me to have any feelings one way or the other.

Mrs. X has a small appetite.

She often asks the waiter or waitress to put her leftover meat in a bag "for the dog." My husband and I know they have no dog. Is this a cheap trick or not? — NEW YORKER

DEAR NEW YORKER: I am alternately saddened and sickened at the thought of the tons of edible food that wind up in American garbage pails. Taking home uneaten food from the restaurant makes a great deal of sense.

The only thing that does not make sense is the invention of the dog. Why is Mrs. X defensive? The waiter or waitress couldn't care less.

Confidential to INQUISITIVE DOUBLE DOME: Tell your friends all kinds of people read this column for all kinds of reasons. It is amusing that he describes your interest in this column as "the morbid curiosity of an eavesdropper or a window-peeper," while he claims his interest is that of a "sociologist who wishes to explore behavior problems of the masses." Apple-sauce.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Many birds have a poor sense of smell.

Whee! It's spring again!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Go Ahead, Try Some April Foolishness!

Whatever the weather outside your window—whether lion or lamb departed yesterday—there's something about April. Perhaps that's why this day has a reputation for giddy light-heartedness. With April here, balmy days of sunshine and flowers are on the schedule.

Just as spring falls more beautifully in climates where winter has been severe, the need for light-heartedness is greater in these uncertain times. There may be a few rare people who need less exuberance; most need more. Women need gaiety most of all, for women are the world's emotion-experts.

We Americans have a great penchant for swelling on "The Problem," and a frightening amount of what we read and hear is best calculated to unnerve us. It's easy to find what's wrong—with our health, the weather, the world, and every other topic. It must be easier to look about and find what's right—there's so much less competition.

Be sure that spring has its place, not only in the year, but in each day and week. There's room in every home and life for some April-foolish fun. Spring's miracle of birth and rebirth reminds us of childhood joys. We can rejoice in youthful vitality, plain good health—or just the gift of one more spring. Spring is for weddings; the special and continuing joys of marriage are as real and delightful to contemplate as the crocuses and apple blossoms.

It's a time for giddy hats and flowery fresh scents; for dreaming up holiday outings; for trying something new. It's a time for laughter; at your own and all human foibles, at the children's jokes and others' mild pleasant-ries, as well as at the genuinely funny book you'd put off reading. It's a time for whatever you call it: counting your blessings, or positive thinking, or renewed faith in goodness.

If this is madness—make the most of it! The world is full of enough manias; the only one we need more of is the gay intoxication of April and spring.

Piedmont Primary Tomorrow

PIEDMONT — Voters of Piedmont will nominate candidates for mayor and three council seats in the biennial primary at 7:30 p. m. in the Majestic Theatre.

The nominees will run on the Citizen's Ticket in the general election May 13.

Mayor Donald M. Mellor, who is completing his two years in office, has previously served five years as mayor and one term on the council.

Holmes Haywood and John Dennison are holdover councilmen from the previous election.

Retiring members of the present council are James Bissett, Michael Lannon and Sebastian Barbarto.

The mayor will be elected to a term of two years, the two candidates for the town council receiving the highest number of votes are elected for four years and the candidate in third place serves two years.

The voters may call a second convention if they so desire.

A qualified citizen may file as candidate for office by presenting a petition with 25 voters' signatures to the city clerk 10 days prior to the election May 13.

Charcoal is wood heated to a high temperature in an airtight container.

Drowning Victim Service Tomorrow

Services for Delos Bernard Ours, 57, of 49 Water Street, Piedmont, who drowned Saturday in the South Branch of the Potomac River near Green Spring, W. Va., will be conducted tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. at the Boal Funeral Home, Westernport.

Rev. Sumner Sawyers, pastor of Piedmont Trinity Methodist Church, will officiate and burial will be in Philos Cemetery, Westernport.

Saturday, Mr. Ours went fishing alone after making plans for his wife to pick him up at Green Spring, several miles down the river from his cottage.

State Trooper Jack Baker, who investigated, said Hardy McDonald, who has a farm in that area, heard shouts coming from the direction of the river. Mr. McDonald told the trooper that Mr. Ours was holding onto his overturned boat and cried for Mr. McDonald to call for additional assistance.

Mr. McDonald raced back to his home and called the Romney Volunteer Fire Company. Although the response of the volunteers was fast, a quick search of the area found the boat, unoccupied, lodged against the bank of the stream. The body of Mr. Ours was located some distance upstream.

Hampshire County authorities surmise Mr. Ours left the safety of his boat in an attempt to reach shore. The South Branch is, although no way near flood stage. No conjecture was made as to how the boat had overturned.

Born at Beryl, W. Va., he was a son of the late Delos B. and Nora (Fazebaker) Ours. Employed at the Lake plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Mr. Ours was a member of Trinity Methodist Church, Piedmont.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Virginia (Ott) Ours; a son, Delos B. Ours Jr., address unknown; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Gannon, Piedmont, and Mrs. Virginia F. Popp, Westernport, and a sister, Miss Enid G. Ours, Cumberland.

MRS. M. S. BIRD

MEYERSDALE — Mrs. Margaret Stein Bird, 82, of Connellsville, formerly of here, died Friday in Connellsville. Born in Scotland on August 18, 1880, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Saggie.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Gladys Lutton, Mill Run; Miss Margaret R. Stein, Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Gladys Garos and Mrs. Nellie Soisson, both of Connellsville; one brother, Edward Saggie, of here; seven grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

The body is at the Price Funeral Home where friends will be received.

A service will be conducted there tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. Interment will be in Union Cemetery.

ARTHUR J. WILSON

Arthur J. Wilson, 216 Park Street, died yesterday afternoon in Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Friday. A native of Murley's Branch, he was a son of the late Samuel F. and Maria Susan (Smith) Wilson. His wife, Nancy (North) Wilson, preceded him in death in 1953.

He was a member of Kingsley Methodist Church and Queen City Council 49, JOUAM.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Grace Cross, with whom he resided; Mrs. Blanche Hartley, city; and Mrs. Mae Hartman, LaVale; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Shatzer and Mrs. Blanche Bennett, both of this city, and Mrs. Florence Emerick, Hyndman; 14 grandchildren; 32 great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren.

The body is at the Kight Funeral Home where friends will be received from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. William S. Jenkins, president of Frostburg chapter of the American Red Cross, said the quota is 100 pints.

Mrs. Joseph Kenney, blood recruitment chairman, listed the following workers: Dr. Alvin Walters, physicians; Mrs. Eva Kemp, blood donor appointments; Miss Katherine Close, canteen service.

Mrs. John Ives and Mrs. Ruth Engle, blood recorders; Mrs. Earl Blough, refreshments; Mrs. Edward Ryan, motorcade, and Mrs. Christine Williams, nurses.

Both Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Kenney urged residents to keep their appointments. "Walk-ins will be more than welcome," they said.

Car Licensing Deadline Set Back A Month

HARRISBURG (UPI) — Revenue Secretary Theodore B. Smith Jr. Friday granted a 30-day extension on 1963 automobile license renewals.

He said the extension to midnight April 30 was neither the fault of the present or previous administration. He said the department had to mail out 5.5 million driver license renewal applications in addition to 4,400,000 tag applications.

The normal deadline for obtaining 1963 tags was midnight March 31.

Smith said the accumulated work load was too much for the department to process in the allotted time.

"For example," he said, "the Democrats had mailed out only 3,400,000 driver renewal forms prior to our taking over the department. We still had to mail out over 2,100,000 and the processing of the returns had only begun."

Barron To Speak Today In Romney

ROMNEY — West Virginia Governor W. W. Barron will be speaker at a Centennial Dinner sponsored by the Hampshire County Jaycees today at 7 p. m. in the Moose Club, Romney.

At 5 p. m., Barron will visit the Mytinger House, on Gravel Lane, believed to be the oldest house in West Virginia, which has been leased by the Jaycees.

Funds realized from the dinner will go into the Centennial fund.

Promotion Group Election Held

OAKLAND—Five board members of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council were elected to a two-year term in mail balloting.

Named were Gordon K. Douglass, Robert Proudfoot, Charles Bowman, Matt Storey Jr., and Earl Zepp, Proudfoot, Bowman and Douglass whose terms had expired, were re-elected.

Current members of the board include Aza C. Stanton, president; Helmut Heise, vice president; Wesley Schaible, treasurer; Donald M. Browning, James Cropp, Arthur Naylor, Irvin R. Rudy Jr. They have another year to serve.

Poster Winners Are Announced

PAW PAW — Winners in the poster contest sponsored by the West Virginia Conservation Commission at Paw Paw High School were Dinah Kidwell, Seventh Grade; Darlene Youngblood, Eighth Grade; Earl Springs, Ninth Grade, and Barbara Eaton, Tenth Grade.

Each received a cash award from the school and a pen from the commission. Posters of Grades 7 through 10 were sent to Berkeley Springs to compete in county competition.

Judges were William Yoder, Mrs. Leona Gerstell and Mrs. R. S. McCoole.

Mt. Savage OES Meeting Set

MT. SAVAGE—Rebecca Arnold Chapter 57, Order of Eastern Star, will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Junior Order Hall. Worthy Matron Sue Lewis and Worthy Patron Thomas W. Lewis will preside.

Deputy Grand Lecturer Margaret Flurschutz will make her official visit.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Virginia Geary and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis.

8-Hour Working Day Celebration Planned

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — A parade and speeches by union officials will highlight the celebration here Monday by the United Mine Workers in observance of the 65th anniversary of the eight-hour working day in the nation's coal mines.

Included among the speakers will be John Kmetz, District 1 international executive board member and Cecil J. Urbanik, president of District 31.

High School bands and other musical organizations, some of them sponsored by the local union chapters, will participate in the parade.

The toothed grass, Cynodon dactylon, is found as far north as Canada, as far south as Argentina and New Zealand and as far west as Japan.

'Standing Room Only'

Little Theatre and Kappa Xi of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity at Frostburg State Teachers College, will present "Standing Room Only" today and tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. in Compton Hall auditorium. Featured in a soft shoe number, "Carolina in the Morning," will be Don Henson, Silver Spring, and Samuel Huffer, of Baltimore. Miss Dorothy Stone White is the director. The production was written, directed and staged by drama students at the college and is an authentic portrayal of some of the highlights of theatrical history from the turn of the century to the present.

Craftsmen Form Guild To Upgrade Products

ELKINS — A group of craftsmen in Pendleton, Pocahontas, Randolph, and Tucker counties are attempting to upgrade their handicraft products with the formation of a guild—the Allegheny Highland Craft Guild.

J. Franklin Wade, Area Extension Development Agent, West Virginia University, said the purpose of the Guild is to realize more money from handicraft products by enlisting superior craftsmen willing to meet certain production standards.

Applicants, in order to qualify for the Guild's "seal of quality," must submit product samples for judging. Three impartial judges, two of whom teach Design at West Virginia University, will evaluate craft work submitted. Standards are based on those used by the nationally-known Southern Highland Handicraft Guild.

Craft categories include loom weaving, ceramics and pottery, men in Pendleton, Pocahontas, Randolph, and Tucker counties are attempting to upgrade their handicraft products with the formation of a guild—the Allegheny Highland Craft Guild.

Those who qualify are entitled to use the Allegheny Highland Craft Guild label, participate in the direction of the Guild (which is a non-profit organization) and sell through the high-class markets which feature Guild-made crafts.

According to Wade, a three-pronged program to upgrade crafts in this region has been organized. It includes encouraging and sponsoring craft training classes, locating top handicraft markets both inside and outside West Virginia, and accepting only those craftsmen who meet strict and exacting standards of skill and quality.

The Guild plans to exhibit its crafts during the National Travel Clinic at Blackwater Lodge in early May, and at the State Art & Crafts Fair at Cedar Lakes, in July.

Plans for the organization were developed as a Rural Areas Development project by a committee of craftsmen and by Cooperative Extension Service workers of West Virginia University.

"The many tourists who travel through our area are anxious to buy good craft items," Wade said. "The production and sale of high quality items can be a fine source of extra income for talented people."

Beall Boosters Meet Tomorrow

FROSTBURG — The Beall High Boosters Club will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 8 p. m. at the high school.

William A. Shuck, president, said plans will be made for the annual sportsmen's banquet. Mr. Shuck said all members should be present.

Nursing Meeting Set

PIEDMONT — Those of the Tri-Towns area who have registered for the home nursing class of the American Red Cross will meet at the home of Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, American Legion, today at 7:30 p. m., said Mrs. Carleton Bell, executive secretary of Piedmont Chapter ARC who is sponsoring the nursing class.

More Far-Out Discoveries

Worried about expanding populations of the future depleting natural resources to the extent that food, fuel and energy can no longer be created in sufficient abundance to sustain this planet? Scientific men and others have warned over the years of such an event. Somehow, the more man learns of the universe, the less he worries about his capability of sustaining life in a future generation which will have many more mouths to feed and much less land on which to do it. It was frequently conjectured, for example, that man might someday be able to harness the sun or radiated energy from another galaxy to provide unlimited power.

He no longer argues whether this can be done. Now it is only a question of when. Even with the realization that the universe holds far greater energy potential than any of the reserves tapped on earth, additional discoveries of the wealth of other solar systems become more fantastic.

California Institute of Technology astronomers have announced the discovery of "radio stars," which in terms or radiation output are the strongest bodies yet discovered in space. The strongest of 24 such "stars" studied has an energy output equal to 20 billion suns.

In its efforts to translate this incomprehensible relationship, the institute compared the energy output of this one source to that generated by a powerful radio station of 50,000 watts. The source in the universe would be equal to a strength of 40 billion billion billion watts.

Many such energy deposits exist to challenge human inventiveness and imagination. They cannot yet be tapped, but they have effectively stilled the apostles of futility who predicted man would outlive the resources available to support him.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Crops Without Plowing

President Kennedy recently mentioned the "agricultural revolution" as one of the prime causes of the worsening unemployment situation. He is, of course, right. But the "crop managemerit" that Secretary of Agriculture Freeman advocates only serves to aggravate a problem of farm labor displacement that has been with us ever since McCormick invented the reaper.

The effort to "manage" crops by controlling the planting acreage or by rewarding the farmer by guaranteeing him a fixed sum of money for a given number of bushels, some of which remain in government storage bins, may temporarily solve the problem of the agricultural price level. But the farmer, still trying to make his individual business as profitable as he may, responds to the planting limitations by trying to harvest his per acre yield with the least expenditure of cash and labor hours. The pressure from Washington to limit the amount of corn or wheat coming to market brings an almost friendly cleverness into play in this matter of getting rid of expensive farmhands and in obtaining bigger yields from reduced acreage.

I keep up with these things at the cost of scaring myself half to death every month when my copy of the "Farm Journal" arrives. This month there are two spine-tinglers in the "Journal" that President Kennedy, if he wishes to sleep well, had better not take to bed with him. One article tells the farmer how to pick the right chemical to use on his particular soil as a "pre-emergence weeder." The second article, one on "Corn Without Plowing," explains how a single dose of weed-killing chemicals applied to a corn field in the spring does away with the need to plow and to harrow and to cultivate. You simply throw the "pre-emergence weeder" on plain, ordinary sod, then you plant the corn, and then, come autumn, you harvest a 100-bushel per acre yield. It's all done in three motions, and there's no work in the hot months!

A Department of Agriculture scientist, Warren C. Shaw, explains the resulting displacement of farm manpower blithely. "All we do," he says, "is substitute chemical energy for mechanical energy." According to Ohio Experiment Station scientists, the labor-displacing virtues of "pre-emergence weeders" have already been proved in rather extensive practice.

"We've averaged 107 bushels where we planted in killed but undisturbed sod on silt loam soil — the same as corn made on sod where we plowed and disked," says Ohio experimenter G. B. Triplett, Jr., "and no-tillage corn planted in old cornstalks on silt loam soil yielded 100 bushels — three bushels more than where we plowed under the old stalks."

Thus the back-breaking tyranny of hacking at clods disappears from the American farm. But also: exit the farm laborer!

The "pre-emergence weeder" chemicals go by such designations as 2,4-D, which strangles broad-leaf weeds at birth, and atrazine, which kills sod and grassy weeds. Other weed killers are dalapon and linuron. No doubt the partisans of "organic" farming will soon be telling us that 2,4-D and atrazine and dalapon are murderous to earthworms, destructive of a proper balance of corn vitamins, and ruinous to the structure of humans. But this, even if true, will not keep the average farmer from using them. Chemicals, on the farm, are here to stay.

The use of "pre-emergence weeders" is merely one manifestation of a phenomenon that must, eventually, force the government to choose between totalitarian controls for agriculture and a phased return to the free market. Partial "crop management" pushes the cleverer and the richer farmer into devising all sorts of ways of getting more for less expenditure of effort from a "controlled" acreage. Meanwhile the gap between the poor farmer and the rich and resourceful farmer widens. The poor farmer sells out to the rich farmer who can afford chemicals. And the number of ex-farmers seeking employment in the city mounts.

The best thing for the long pull in agriculture would be to have government accept the inevitable, as happened in the coal industry when the Guffey control act was outlawed. Accepting the free market price, the coal mine owners scrambled to re-establish their profit margins by automating to the hilt. This put miners out of work. But the problem of dealing with unemployment that results from automation can be handled successfully in only one way: by creating new industries and services to soak up the displaced.

Is Gen. de Gaulle An Unconditional Gaullist?

By Joseph Alsop

PARIS. The following report of a conversation with Gen. de Gaulle's Minister of Information, Alain Peyrefitte, is devoid of news but pregnant with implications.

QUESTION: Just what does Gen. de Gaulle mean by his famous description of a future Europe extending from "the Atlantic to the Urals"?

PEYREFITTE: To begin with, Gen. de Gaulle has never accepted the division of Europe approved by the Russians and Western Europe occupied by the Americans. Such a division, he believes, is not in the nature of things. Eventually, the occupiers must withdraw, leaving Europe for the Europeans.

QUESTION: In this "Europe for the Europeans," are the Russians to be included?

PEYREFITTE: The Russians, it has to be admitted, are not fully European. Russia, you must realize, was under Mongol rule from the fourteenth to the eighteenth century. The Mongols followed the system of killing the men and breeding the women. There is a heavy Mongol strain, therefore.

QUESTION: Your history is not quite accurate. Russia paid tribute to the Mongols in the fourteenth and fifteenth century, but Mongol power was broken long before Ivan the Terrible. But leaving that on one side, what of Gen. de Gaulle's mention of the Urals? Does he look forward to the division of Russia in two, or has it escaped his attention that nearly half the Russian nation is now to be found beyond the Urals, in Siberia?

PEYREFITTE: We must not be too exact about a mere phrase. Yet in Siberia, after all, the Russians are occupying what is Chinese soil. Will the Chinese forever tolerate this intrusion? This is not in the nature of things, as it is not in the nature of things for the Russian occupation of Central Asia to endure forever.

This singular galimatias of historical mysticism and bad history deserves serious study, at the moment, because it conveys the character of what is called "unconditional Gaullism." No one knows whether Gen. de Gaulle is himself an unconditional Gaullist. But it is at least certain that the General is increasingly surrounded by men of the stripe of Peyrefitte.

To this, one must add another related fact. Once again, the French government is in the grip of one of those mysterious, recurring crises of suspicion, like the crisis of 1957-58.

Last time, large numbers of leading Frenchmen passionately held the absurd belief that America was secretly supporting the Algerian rebels, as part of a plot to snatch the oil of the Sahara from France. This time, the theme is less well-defined, but the conviction that plots are being hatched is even more intense, as was proven by the French reaction to the Nassau pact.

The combination of a crisis of suspicion with the prevalence of extremism obviously explains certain very odd things that have been happening recently. No amount of friction would lead an

NORTH-SOUTH AXIS — Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana have more than one thing in common besides being Democrats. In the first place, both like grits, a traditional southern dish.

Both are also agreed on a method of financing southern cotton-growing farmers.

In fact, this agreement extends so far as to include the cotton views of Sen. Herman Talmadge, a Georgia Democrat, who rarely agrees with Humphrey on anything else.

Recently, Humphrey gave voice to the Talmadge-Boggs views on cotton-growing subsidies at a press conference. A voice from the rear of the room commented: "Those grits are working again."

Replied Humphrey: "Yes, sir. Eat enough of those grits and you'll all whistle Dixie."

UNHAPPY RUSSIANS—Emigre Cubans and other sources of intelligence about Castro's island are reporting deep unhappiness among the Russian "technicians" stationed there.

These thousands of Soviet importees are living in a strange climate far from home and among a people with a far different language and culture. The reports are that despite all efforts the Russians and Cubans do not get along, except at the "official" level.

Many of the Russians are described as downright homesick. Some of them occasionally get into the principal cities and find entertainment and diversion in night clubs and movies. But mostly they're segregated and otherwise are kept to themselves.

When Ivan returns to his homeland—and the U.S. government is doing much to hasten that day—the Washington estimate is that he'll have little good to say about Castro and his subjects, and a lot of criticism about the kinds of governments and peoples that the Russian rulers choose to support.

Kennedy Considers Offering To Cut American Missile Strength In Half

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is considering a dramatic offer to the Russians to slash our missile-and-bomber forces roughly in half in return for a ten per cent cutback in Soviet strength.

This would still leave the United States with a striking force that could match the Russians missile for missile and bomb for bomb, the advocates claim.

The President has contended privately that the armed forces already have far more nuclear weapons than they need to wipe out every possible Soviet target.

"How many times do you have to knock out a Russian target with nuclear weapons?" he has asked.

The Joint Chiefs have warned, however, that such a drastic scale-down would leave the United States short of weapons to protect our far-flung commitments.

Simply stated, the civilian chiefs are willing to settle for mathematical parity with the Russians, which would leave both sides with approximately the same number of nuclear weapons. They believe this would create a "balance of terror," which would constitute a mutual deterrent against war.

But the military chiefs are pleading for geographical parity which would require missile-bomber superiority, they insist, to stand off the Russians around the globe.

In the secret debates, only Gen. Maxwell Taylor, the Joint Chief's chairman, has sided with his civilian superiors. He has explained to his military colleagues that he now considers himself a "political appointee."

NOTE — The Joint Chiefs are also irritated over a secret memo which Secretary of Defense McNamara issued January 21, scrapping the basic national security policy. This is a 20-page statement of military aims, which has been the bible of defense policy. Hereafter, the memo declared, the statements of Kennedy and McNamara will be taken as military scripture.

Cuba — 1898-1963

What worries the state department about the Cuban refugee raids on the Cuban mainland and on Russian ships is that national tempers will become inflamed and we may have a repetition of the sinking of the Maine which touched off the Spanish-American War in 1898.

The American people never knew it at the time, but history now shows that Spain was so anxious to avoid war that it had offered to give us Cuba. However, thanks to Cuban "patriots" who were determined to incite war and to the right wing press of the United States, one of the most needless wars in history was fought.

James Truslow Adams, descendant of the famous Adams family, tells the story in his book "The Epic of America" which is recommended reading for Brig Gen. Barry Goldwater, the Senator from Arizona, and others who are waving the flag so dangerously over Cuba.

"Unfortunately, we had sent a battleship, the Maine, to Havana Harbor, and while at anchor there, on February 15, 1898, she was blown up by an explosion, the real cause of which has never yet been ascertained by the public.

"Spain immediately urged investigation by an impartial tribunal, and arbitration. We declined both, though we had always stood for arbitration of international disputes. An American investigating board announced on March 28 that the ship had been blown up from the outside; a Spanish board, which was not permitted to visit the ship and which had to judge from the outside, announced that she had been blown up by an internal explosion.

"Subsequently the United States government had her towed out to sea and sunk so deep that no commission will ever be able to investigate her again.

Insane Jingoism

"Inflamed by the yellow newspaper press, the public meanwhile had gone mad. (Theodore) Roosevelt, always bellicose, and then Assistant Secretary of the Navy, demanded that the Spaniards be driven from the new world. McKinley was for peace, but was weak and feared that he would disrupt the Republican Party and interfere with the smooth-running machinery of tariff making and other interesting functions of government if he tried to lead the country and stem the tide of insane jingoism. He noted a year later that if he had been left alone he could have secured the withdrawal of Spain from Cuba without a war.

"Presidents of the United States can hardly expect to be left alone," but some of them have had the courage to stand alone and to lead, as did John Adams when he saved us from war with France.

"General Woodford, whom I happened to know and who was an honest man, called Spain within 48 hours that Spain knew Cuba was lost, that she was willing to let her go and do everything possible to placate the United States as rapidly as might be consistent with avoiding revolution in Spain itself. Shortly after that he cabled again that he could secure, before August 1, the acquiescence of Spain in either the independence of Cuba or even the annexation of the island to the United States, and that Spain was loyally ready to make any concession. The next day after receiving this cable, McKinley sent a message to Congress asking for a declaration of war. Perhaps he had been too deeply stung by Roosevelt's remark that 'he had no more backbone than a chocolate éclair,' and so proved the positive in trying to prove the negative."

NOTE — Some Diplomats say that the analogy between bellicose Republican Senators today, a harassed President, and Russian withdrawals from Cuba is all too similar to 1898. (Copyright, 1963, By The Bell Syndicate)

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The treasurer of the Twelve was Judas. He was the only one of the group who was not a Galilean. He was short and broad and dark and wore his hair in ringlets. His name was not Judas Iscariot, but Judas ish Kerioth (Judas from Kerioth), a town in Judea. He was vain, snobbish and wise. Judas regarded the other apostles as country boys.

Not much is known about this man, except the fragments which appear in the writings of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. However, from the chips of truth, one can deduce other things. He wore a garment of white, as the others did, but, as treasurer, he also wore a leather apron under the garment. It had two big pockets. In these he stuffed alms.

On at least one occasion, Judas was accused of stealing. Some Jewish women who had given up their worldly possessions to follow Jesus demanded an accounting. The Messiah dismissed the complaint although some of the other apostles added testimony of their own about earlier thefts. So it is certain that Judas had inordinate pride, and no character. It is reasonable to assume that he did not believe that Jesus of Nazareth was God, and the Son of God. If he believed, no power could have forced him to betray the Master because, to do so, would be to forfeit his soul in addition to all the rewards promised to the apostles in Heaven. It is possible that he believed that Jesus had delusions.

His father, Simon ish Kerioth, did not subscribe to Jewish law. Judas was irreligious. Why then was he selected as an apostle? Because the ancient prophecies had to be fulfilled: the innocent lamb would be betrayed. Someone had to do it. Who better than a vain atheist whose prime interest in life was the acquisition of money? Who better than a thief who would steal from his Master? Who better than one who believed in no one except himself? Who better than a man who believed he was on the paying end of a good racket?

He pitied the thousands of Jews who believed in Jesus, and who gave up their worldly possessions to follow Him. At the home of Martha and Mary, Judas protested when the feet of Jesus were anointed with an expensive unguent. He said it could be sold for 300 denarii and the money given to the poor. To the poor? Poor Judas.

While Jesus was curing lepers, or raising the dead to life, Judas had not time to watch, and see for himself. He was busy threading in the throngs of people, asking for contributions. He demanded the strictest accounting from the other apostles, but rendered none himself. The man's hunger for money was insatiable.

Two things primed him for betrayal. One was the increasing references of Jesus to his imminent death. The other was the desire of the high priest Caiaphas, and his father-in-law, Annas, to put Christ on trial for blasphemy, for claiming to be the Son of Yahweh. Judas calculated that, if Jesus was about to die, the racket was bound to die with Him.

Also, the few highly placed Jews who plotted against Jesus had more power than the thousands of poor Jews who believed in Him. The few might punish the many, and it is not good to be caught on the losing side of a struggle. So he went to Caiaphas and promised to deliver Jesus for a price. The price was 30 pieces of silver, which was the price of a slave killed by an ox.

Judas refused to testify at the trial. He agreed to identify Jesus with a kiss. Then he expected to take his 30 shekels and disappear. He got the money. It jingled in his leather apron, but he could not leave. He hurried from Gethsemane down the Cedron to the Fountain Gate and on up to the courtyard of Caiaphas.

There, remorse smashed his mind. He saw the gentlest of men kicked, flogged and slapped, not because Caiaphas asked it, but because the guards wanted to show zealotness to their boss. Judas sickened. Instead of leaving, he whispered behind the party all the way to the temple and the trial.

The rising sun deepened the hollows in his leathery cheeks as he waited on Solomon's portico for the verdict. When he heard it, Judas lost his mind. He raced north and into the sanctuary of the priests and shouted: "I have betrayed innocent blood!" He counted out the 30 shekels and watched them tinkle and dance and roll on the temple floor.

He ran toward the Valley of the Hinnom and hanged himself. The last human words Judas heard were from the priests: "That is your worry." As he swung from the tree near the wall, it broke. His body was dashed on the rocks below and the money in the leather apron rolled down the hill, toward Potter's Field.

It was the great comedian Bert Williams who first told the story of his hike along a hazardous mountain trail: "There I was mooching along a path only four inches wide with a solid cliff on the left and a 6,000-foot drop on the right. Suddenly I wheels around and sees this here lion chasing me. I begin to run like mad. Then I comes to a turn in the path and what's confronting me but a great big tiger growling and lashing his tail."

"Holy smokes!" gasped the straight man. "What did you

Keyser And Fort Ashby To Launch P.V.C. Baseball Season Today

Clark Begins 17th Campaign As KHS Mentor

Tornado Lists Ten Contests; Eagles Are Hosts Today

Keyser High School's Golden Tornado and Fort Ashby High School's Eagles have the honor of opening the 1963 baseball season in the Potomac Valley Conference today at Fort Ashby.

This will be the first of ten league games for Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's tossers who posted a 7-5 record in the circuit last year.

Clark, who last crashed the headlines when his 1962 football team won the P.V.C. title with a 7-0 record and then went on to capture the state Class AA crown at Weston, begins his 17th year as baseball mentor at Keyser with an overall mark of 118 wins, 62 losses and one tie game.

Quentin Savers, a product of Piedmont High School, whose Fort Ashby nine won 4 and lost 10 last season, begins his 8th year at the helm. His teams have won 17, lost 55 and played two ties.

Terry Turbin, the workhorse of the 1962 Keyser nine, is back for another fling at pitching and should be the ace of the staff. Turbin was 2-1 in 1961 and 4-4 last season. Coach Clark has 15 lettermen available for duty this year.

Roland Hamilton, Paw Paw infielder-pitcher, won the batting championship of the P.V.C. in 1962 with an average of .517. Al Makowski, who pitched in all ten games played by Mathias, posted an 8-2 record. Jim Finch, of Southern High, Oakland, and Hamilton turned in 5-0 mound records.

Southern, coached by Tom Kuhn, won the conference championship last season with a 7-1 record. Fifteen schools participated.

Keyser's schedule:
Apr. 1—Fort Ashby, away.
Apr. 3—Romney, home.
Apr. 5—Romney, away.
Apr. 16—Petersburg, away.
Apr. 18—Fort Ashby, home.
Apr. 23—Petersburg, home.
May 2—Southern, away.
May 10—Southern, away.
May 14—Paw Paw, away.
May 17—Paw Paw, home.
Here's how the teams finished last season:

Beal had a 2-0 record.
(Teams must play a minimum of eight games to qualify for championship.)

Raiders Beat Bedford, 5-2

Eugene Ross Scores Four Of Five Goals

The Moon Glo Raiders inched closer to the Western Pennsylvania Roller Hockey League championship by defeating the Bedford Redcoats Sunday afternoon on the local rink by the score of 5-2.

Eugene Ross scored four points in the first period and Richard Ross tallied in the final stanza for the Raiders. Bob Cordry, Bob Park and Gary Hendrickson also excelled for the victors.

Jim Clark accounted for both of Bedford's goals. Scott Clark, Bedford's goalie, stopped 38 shots out of 43. The Mellott brothers, Gabe and Al, along with Ed McCreary were outstanding for the Pennsylvania team.

Moon Glo plays at Glassport, Pa., next Sunday afternoon. Altoona will host Bedford.

Score by periods:
BEDFORD.....0 1-2
CUMBERLAND.....4 0-3

Goals: Bedford—Jim Clark 2, Cumberland—Eugene Ross 4, Richard Ross 1.
Referee—Jesse Ferguson. Judges—Dan McDaniel and Willard Cook. Timekeeper—Miss Clifford Ross. Scores—Paul W. Weisenmiller.

Lou Baker Honored By Boys; 30 Awards Given, 340 At Dinner

Another successful season of the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League—the 35th—was brought to a fitting climax Saturday night at Masonic Temple where 340 persons attended the 34 team circuit's annual awards dinner.

A total of 30 trophies were presented to teams and individuals during the one hour and a half program by Floyd "Pete" Elliott, president of the league, and Clifton Van Roby, former physical director of the "Y," and sports-caster of Radio Station WTBO.

Four different teams shared the major awards. St. Luke's Lutheran (14-2), coached by Lou Baker with Bill Cook as his aide, received the Ronald Minnick Memorial Trophy, donated by Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, and presented by Russell Minnick to the regular season champions of the American League.

Earn Two Awards

Trinity Methodist, coached by Wayne Shook, was the recipient of two prizes for capturing the playoff crown in the American League. These were the Lynn Lashley rotating trophy which has been in competition 13 years and the Lynn Lashley permanent trophy. Trinity gained its first leg on the large trophy which St. Luke's, the only two-times winner, copped in 1957 and 1958. To gain permanent possession a team must win it three times.

The third American League team to earn an award was Living Stone Church of the Brethren which was presented the seventh annual David Kauffman Memorial Trophy for team sportsmanship, named in memory of the former Cumberland attorney, sportsman and assistant attorney general of Maryland who died in October 1956.

the American League playoffs: Ted Durbin, coach of Mapleside Methodist, regular season champion in the National League and Lou Baker, St. Luke's Lutheran mentor, regular season champions of the American League and winner of the Ronald Minnick Memorial Trophy. Baker holds in his right hand a plaque presented to him by members of St. Luke's squad in appreciation for his coaching, guidance and leadership. Three hundred and forty persons attended the dinner.

Coaches and 12 members of St. Luke's team, namely, Donnie Sines, Ed Piper, Rick Ziegler, Charles Palmer, Dale Smith, Mike Twigg, Lee Bennett, Tom Crabtree, Jeff Twigg, Dennis Nave, Jim Carson and Bob Nave, were present. "Oscars" for topping their league at the conclusion of the regular campaign.

Members of St. Luke's squad gave Coach Baker an attractive plaque which bore the following inscription:

"Lou Baker. In appreciation for his outstanding coaching, guidance and leadership. St. Luke's Lutheran 1962-1963. From All The Boys."

Members of Mapleside Methodist's squad presented "Oscars" were Frank Shircliff, Denny Hopwood, Terry Kirby, Bobby Keiter, Tommy Evans, Jimmie Shircliff, Bobby Lafferty, Dave Bean and Greg Perry.

Coach Durbin donated his trophy to Bobby Taylor, who is hospitalized and failed to play due to a leg injury he suffered two days before Mapleside Methodist engaged in its first game of the season.

The program was opened with Invocation by the Rev. Robert E. Moales, pastor of Grace Methodist Church.

The address of welcome was delivered by Mr. Nonnenmann and league president Elliott introduced the guests.

Lynn M. Patchin, physical director of the YMCA, stated that he has been an observer during 17 weeks of basketball and noted there were 286 games played, 21,731 participants and 19,000 visitors. During that period, he emphasized, there was only one instance of a reprimand.

Expresses Appreciation
Robert B. Young, who has served as secretary of the league for four years, expressed his appreciation to the coaches, the press and the radio for their cooperation, lauded Ronnie Riggs for his officiating and praised Robert Williams, general secretary of the YMCA, B. W. Pittard and Claude Weaver, of the "Y," for their support in making the league a success. In closing Mr. Young thanked the ladies of McKinley Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, for preparing and serving the meal.

Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Frank Wanek, pastor of Melvin Methodist Church.

The semi-final round of the playoffs in the Men's Recreation Basketball League opens tonight at Fort Hill High School where Peskin's play Shelley's Five at 7 o'clock and Robinson's Plumbers oppose Marine Reserves at 8 o'clock.

The second games in the best-of-three series will be staged Wednesday night at Fort Hill. Third games, if necessary, are scheduled for Thursday on the same court.

Wise Chips will oppose the Police Boys Club today at 6 p. m., at Fort Hill High School in the first game of their semi-final playoff series in the High School Rec League. The second game is billed for Tuesday at 8 p. m. at Allegany and the third game, if necessary, is set for 7 p. m. Wednesday at Allegany.

Kean's Misfits defeated Diehl's Esso, 56-55, in the opening game of their series Saturday. They'll clash again Tuesday at 7 p. m. at Allegany. If a third game is necessary it will be staged Wednesday at 8 p. m. on the Campobello court.

Frostburg State Teachers College dropped its opening game of the baseball season to Hagerstown Junior College Saturday at Hagerstown by the score of 7-6.

The Bobcats took a 6-5 lead in the top of the ninth inning but lost the game when Bill Carder walked home the tying and winning runs in the last half of the final frame. Ridenour was the winning hurler.

Frostburg State plays Potomac State (1-1) Tuesday at Keyser.

Phils Nose Out Pirates In 10th
CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI)—Cookie Rojas singled with one out in the 10th inning Sunday to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rojas' hit scored Ruben Amaro, who had singled and advanced on a passed ball as pitcher Jack Hamilton fanned.

The Pirates scored three runs in the fourth off Art Mahaffey, but Hamilton blanked them from the seventh inning to the finish on just two singles. Dick Schofield's double, a walk, singles by Don Cledenon and Willie Stargell and a sacrifice fly accounted for the Pirates' tallies.

Don Demeter batted home the Phils' first run in the fourth, pinch-hitter John Herrnstein singled home a run in the sixth and Wes Covington did the same in the seventh to tie the score.

Frostburg Team Wins State Columbian Squires Tourney

Father Bradley Circle Defeats Baltimore Quint

Host team Father Bradley Circle, of Frostburg, scored a 44-28 victory over Notre Dame Circle, of Baltimore, yesterday afternoon to win the championship of the third annual Maryland Columbian Squires Basketball Tournament staged over the weekend at Compton Hall gymnasium in Frostburg.

Father Bradley Circle, winner of the first tournament in 1961, gained its second leg on the Wilbur Firlie Memorial Trophy which must be won three times for permanent possession. Marian Circle of Baltimore, the 1962 champion, did not compete this year.

Third place in the seven-team event went to Cardinal Gibbons Circle, of Baltimore, who yesterday downed Patapsco Circle, of Catonsville, 47-27. Bishop Walsh Circle, of Cumberland, defeated Father Flanagan Circle, of Baltimore, 44-29, to secure the consolation championship.

In addition to winning the title, the Father Bradley cagers walked off with a major share of the individual honors, placing three players on the all-tournament team—Frank Deluca, Ed Bahen and Mick Delaney. Tom Stichter, of Bishop Walsh, and Tom Blaney, Notre Dame Circle, were the other all-tourney selectees.

Bahen was named most valuable player, Deluca was awarded a trophy as the best defensive player, and Delaney was voted the most determined player in the tournament.

Stichter, who scored 70 points for Bishop Walsh in three games, was picked best offensive player, and the individual sportsman award went to Wandishin of Cardinal Gibbons Circle. Notre Dame was presented the team sportsman trophy.

Bahen scored 20 points and Deluca had 13 yesterday for the Frostburg cagers, who had beaten Father Flanagan (54-28) and Cardinal Gibbons (58-39) on Saturday to move into the championship round. Bill Peterson collected a dozen tallies for Notre Dame.

Bill O'Brien and Jerry Paleyanski scored 14 points apiece for Cardinal Gibbons, and Pat Newman accounted for 17 of the Patapsco club's 27 points. Stichter, whose 31 points on Saturday against St. Christopher Circle (Westernport) represented an individual high for the tournament, came through with 19 in yesterday's consolation playoff. Moltz led Father Flanagan with 13.

A permanent first place trophy, donated by Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, was awarded Father Bradley Circle. Frostburg Council 1442, presented the second place award to the Notre Dame team, and Cardinal Gibbons Circle received its third place trophy from the Mt. Savage Council.

SS. Peter and Paul's Flying Dutchmen yesterday sewed up the second half championship of the Catholic Youth League by handing St. Patrick's first half title a 36-29 defeat at the SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

Coach Bob Mattingly's Dutchmen closed out second half play with an 11-1 mark. The loss was the second in 11 games for the Fighting Irish, who won the first half crown with an 11-1 record.

The two Cumberland rivals will meet in a one-game playoff for the league championship. The date and site for the title game have not been decided, but it will probably be played this week.

SS. Peter and Paul hopped ahead to a 12-2 advantage in the first period yesterday, and widened the margin to 26-6 at halftime. The Irish came back with a rush after intermission, but were down too far to catch up.

Teddy Malloy led the Dutchmen in scoring with 11 points, and Mike Mullany came through with nine, hitting on four field goal attempts from long range.

Gary Neus, though held to two points, was a tower of strength under the boards and picked off 15 rebounds. Pat McLean and Kevin Mattingly excelled with their floor play.

Ralph Hager was the big man for the losers, leading his club in both scoring and rebounding. He collected 17 points on eight field goals and a 1-3 performance at the foul line, and grabbed

Termites Are Swarming In Cumberland Now

Home Owners Report Worst Season In Years

Cold Winter No Barrier To Termites

Home owners all over this area have reported unusually large swarmings of termites. Evidently, safe in their nests below the frost line, termites were not affected by the continuous sub-freezing temperatures of the past winter. Concealed from view, termites burrow up from the ground in search of food, usually wood, and often attack the supporting under-structure of homes. Only an inspection by experts can determine if the under-structure is infested. If termite infestation in your home is allowed to spread unchecked, very costly damage can occur—far out of proportion to the few pounds of wood the termites actually eat.

If you see an insect that looks like this, your home may be in danger!

It is difficult for home owners to tell the difference between termites and flying ants. If you have termites, you have TROUBLE. They just bore in and start eating. Brick, stone or concrete will not necessarily stop them. Because they hide while they destroy, their presence is rarely discovered by the home owner until the damage has been done. Don't take a chance. Call Terminix now and have an expert determine whether or not those insects are really termites. There is absolutely no cost or obligation for an inspection and a reliable recommendation. Terminix is the world's largest termite control organization—with 35 years of dependable service.

Only Terminix Offers This Exclusive $5,000 Insured Damage Guarantee

If your home qualifies—as have thousands of others in this area—Terminix will take on the entire responsibility for protecting your home—and every item in it—against the expense of treatment and also against any future damage by subterranean termites. If damage should occur, repairs and replacements up to $5,000 will be made without any cost to you whatsoever. This Guarantee is backed by the Terminix chemical manufacturer, your local Terminix company and is insured by the world's oldest insurance company. Three Games Scheduled Tonight As Gold Medal Tourney Resumes

Pair Of Senior Quarter-Final Contests On Tap

Wildcats, Rascals Tangle In First 115-Pound Match

A tripleheader featuring a pair of quarter-final contests in the senior unlimited division swings the YMCA Gold Medal Basketball Tournament back into action today following a three-day weekend layoff.

Today's tournament activity at the YMCA gymnasium starts at 7 p. m., when Ced's Rascals and Cessna's Wildcats meet in a 115-pound class semi-final match.

Cise's Service Station, representing the Frostburg State Teachers College five, takes on Snyder's Esso in the first of two senior division battles at 8 o'clock. Snyder's Potato Chips and the Sportsman's Club square off in the nightcap at nine.

Won In First Round
All four of the senior teams racked up first round victories last week. Cise's walloped George's Golden Greeks, 62-30; Snyder's Esso defeated Ritter's Tavern, 57-46; Snyder's Potato Chips downed the Moorefield All-Stars, 54-44, and the Sportsman's Club rapped the Papermakers, 67-43.

The rosters of the Snyder's Esso and Sportsman's Club teams are filled with players from the Martinsburg-Shepherdstown area. Bucky McDonald, who was voted the tournament's outstanding player in 1961, scored 21 points for the Sportsman in last week's win. The Snyder's Potato Chip quint is a local independent entry.

Teams playing in the 115-pound semi-final will be seen for the first time. The lightweight division drew only three entries this year, and Lovers Leap Esso drew a bye into the finals.

Coached by Cedric Miller, Ced's Rascals have six players on their roster—Doug Mackey, B. Davis, Bobby Nave, George Showalter, A. Harris and Larry Martin.

Hunt Coaches Wildcats
Playing for Cessna's Wildcats are Gary Cessna, Denny Hopwood, Gene Bender, Joe Koelkers, Tommy Cessna, James Merrill, Richard Elliott and Doug Shook.

Paul P. Hunt is the Wildcats' coach. Nineteen teams remain in the tournament running, from an original field of 32 clubs which began play last Monday night.

There are eight teams still "alive" in the senior unlimited division, which attracted the most entries (16). In addition to the four playing tonight, other senior teams in the race are Peskin's, Chat & Chew, Devon Club and Company C, of Somerset.

Two Eliminated
Two junior unlimited teams have been eliminated from a list of six O'Neal's All-Stars and Boal's Jolly Green Giants meet tomorrow at 7 p. m. in one semi-final clash, and the Tri-Towns All-Stars oppose the Fort Ashby Eagles on Wednesday at 7 in the other.

Two semi-final games are set tomorrow and Wednesday in the 135-pound class, in which four clubs are left out of seven. Kean's Misfits and Boal's play tomorrow at 6 p. m., and Lovers Leap takes on Springer's Cavaliers Wednesday at 6.

Championship games in all four divisions will be staged on Thursday, as follows: 6 p. m., 115-pound class; 7:35-pound class; 8, junior unlimited division, and 9 p. m., senior unlimited division.

Yankees Wallop White Sox, 10-4

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — The New York Yankees, paced by Joe Pepitone and Cleto Boyer, crushed the Chicago White Sox 10-4 Sunday with a 17-hit bombardment before a record Sarasota crowd of 5,714.

Pepitone walloped two homers and now leads the Yankees with seven circuit clouts and 14 runs batted in. Boyer was 4-for-5 with a double and three singles. Hector Lopez also hit a homer.

J.C. Martin hit a pair of homers for the White Sox for half the runs off Ralph Terry, who went seven innings and allowed all eight White Sox hits. Jim Bouton retired six in a row in the final two rounds.

Go-Go White Sox Go Without Aparicio But Continue To Build With Youth In Bid To Win Another Flag

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is an article in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow on this page daily.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

SARASOTA, Fla. — The Go-Go Sox, once headed by Louie Aparicio, are no more although there still is plenty of "go" on the club.

The 1963 edition continues the plan to build with youth and to heck with the oldsters although Hoyt Wilhelm, for one, is 39 and ready to knuckle down for the Sox with that knuckler.

Traded away in the last two years were Minnie Minoso, Roy Sievers, Billy Pierce, Don Larsen, Al Smith and Aparicio.

The youngsters began to move in well last year and more are ready to take over.

Need More Power
Once again the Sox lack power as Al Lopez, beginning his seventh season as the bench boss, admits that "we sure need some power in the outfield." In fact he needs it elsewhere, too.

Al covers it up with "but we have some fellows in every position who can sting the ball pretty hard and as a result we have a diversified attack."

The "attack" was good enough only for fifth last year, the lowest in Al's regime here, but actually the Sox lost only one game more than they did the year before.

Al always has had good pitching and it could be the same this year.

Ray Herbert finally hit 20 victories last year and Juan Pizarro, who could win only 12, is a much better pitcher than that.

Frank Bauman, Eddie Fisher, John Buzhardt, Joel Horlen and Dom Zanni did a good job and should do better. Buzhardt won eight but was out six weeks with the flu and a cut finger.

Horlen, who is expected to be a real star some day, tore a muscle which hampered him but he won seven and lost six in his first season. Fisher was particularly outstanding in the second half. Zanni was out three times with ailments.

How About Score?
Where Herb Score fits in is anybody's guess again. Herb has looked good in camp but he never quite recovered from that eye injury.

Among the young pitchers who are very well liked are Dave DeBusschere, who had a fine first year at Savannah and then pitched 18 innings with good results for the Sox late last year, and Mike Joyce, who was acquired from Indianapolis last July and appeared in 25 games.

Frank Kreutzer, who has had only two seasons of minor league ball, had a 15-10 record at Indianapolis but he needs to control his wildness.

The Sox will present a new infield although Joe Cunningham is back at first and the reliable Nellie Fox at second. Ron Hansen will be at short and Pete Ward at third. They were acquired in the big deal with Baltimore in which Aparicio and Al Smith were the top Sox discards.

Grover Jones fills in as a replacement for Cunningham.

Ward May Play 3d
Hansen is an established player and it is hoped Ward, who batted .328 at Rochester, can play third base although he formerly played the outfield. If he doesn't make it there Charlie Smith is on deck although Smith was hurt last year and again in winter ball.

Camilo Carreon did most of the catching last year; Sherm Lollar is still around and J. C. Martin, former infielder, has been converted into a catcher.

Floyd Robinson, who was the most valuable player on the team last year, heads the outfield corps which also includes Mike Hersherberger, Jim Landis, Charlie Maxwell and Dave Nicholson.

Nick May Help
Everyone here believes that Nicholson, who came over in the Orioles' deal and who was signed by that club for $105,000, finally will reach the hitting potential they all figured he had but never cut.

Landis is due to improve for he fell down to .228 last year and he's a better hitter than that.

Among the newcomers in the outfield are Brian McCall, who hit over .300 in two of the three leagues he was in last year, and Manly Johnson, who is a pitcher and outfielder. Johnson was 13-6 for Savannah last year but, playing in the outfield there for half the season, he hit .363. Another hopeful is Ken Berry, who hit .368 for Savannah.

Lopez sums up the new club this way:

"We'll have improved young pitching, a stout defense, a much better bench and more maneuverability. We could use some power and I'm looking for a cleanup hitter."

Bout Rescheduled

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—The 15-round title fight between lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz and Doug Vaillant of Cuba, postponed because of Ortiz' illness, has been rescheduled for next Saturday night.

The bout, first world title clash in Puerto Rico in 24 years, was postponed a few hours before fight time Saturday night when Ortiz was stricken with stomach pains.

Royals Whip Boston Again

Celts Bow, 121-116 Trail In Series, 2-1

BOSTON (UPI) — Cincinnati's bench took over with a vengeance when the Royal regulars failed Sunday night and fired a 121-116 playoff upset over the Boston Celtics.

The Royals, grabbing a 2-1 game advantage in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division finals, continued to ignore the supposed home-court advantage by grabbing their second win at Boston Garden.

The four-man Cincinnati bench all joined first stringers in double figures. Oscar Robertson finished on top with 23 points.

The Royal bench of Adrian Smith, Tom Hawkins, Dave Piontek and Hub Reed totaled 48 points as all nine of the visitors had at least 10.

Tom Heinsohn headed Boston's scoring with 28 points while the veteran Bob Cousy got 26 and Sam Jones 23.

Maryland Senate To Act On Track Ownership Bill

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The question of whether Pimlico Race Track and one at Charles Town, W. Va. should remain under single ownership will be left Monday to the Maryland Senate.

The House of Delegates passed 84-14 Saturday night a bill prohibiting anyone with controlling interest in a track in another state from exercising control of a Maryland track.

Del. Irwin Hoffman, D-Washington, sponsor of the bill, cited a 1960 study report which said that single ownership of two tracks could adversely affect Maryland racing.

He also read a letter from Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., then president of Timonium and Bowie.

Del. Thomas R. O'Farrell, D-Carroll, a breeder, said horsemen had to guarantee to be at Charles Town in order to get stalls at Pimlico.

The bill was brought back from a defeat by six votes less than an hour earlier to passage, on reconsideration, with 12 votes to spare.

Barber Cops Azalea Open

Jerry's 274 Total Wins By 5 Strokes

By KEN ALYTA
WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Little Jerry Barber, snarled in a three-way tie for the lead with six holes to go, birdied the next three Sunday and went on from there to win the Azalea Open Golf Tournament by five shots for the third time in 11 years.

The 46-year-old Los Angeles professional's closing 67, five under par, gave him a 274 total and top money of $2,800 in the $20,000 tournament.

Five professionals tied for second place at 279, five shots back of Barber. One of them, Billy Maxwell, three-putted the final green to miss a chance to win second money outright. Instead he joined Australian Bruce Crampton, Doug Ford and two fledgling pros, Larry Beck of Southern Pines, N.C., and Jack Rule of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in a second-place tie. Each won $1,320.

Rochester Purchases Hamlin Of Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators announced Sunday the sale of infielder Ken Hamlin to Rochester of the International League for an undisclosed sum.

This left the Senators' shortstop job in the hands of Ed Brinkman, a 21-year-old bonus player from Cincinnati. Brinkman is a sharp fielder but has hit only .160 in parts of two seasons with Washington.

Hamlin has played 271 games with Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Los Angeles and Washington and hit .232.

Lakers Score, West Gets 27

Los Angeles Beats St. Louis, 112-104

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jerry West, idle for nearly two months with a leg injury, scored 27 points to lead the Los Angeles Lakers to a 112-104 victory over the St. Louis Hawks Sunday in the first game of their best-of-seven Western Division playoff of the National Basketball Association.

West, a guard who averaged 26 points per game before he suffered a torn hamstring muscle Feb. 3, played 36 minutes in the Sports Arena game before 10,086. The winner of the playoff will meet the Eastern Division champion for the NBA crown.

Tom Brown's Single Wins For Senators

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Washington Rookie Tom Brown continued his spring-training heroics Sunday when he lashed a bases-loaded single in the eighth inning to give the Senators a 4-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The former University of Maryland star lined a sharp single to center to drive in two runs and hang the loss on Bobby Shantz.

Claude Osteen became the first Washington pitcher to go the full route, allowing only seven hits and yielding no walks.

Ken Boyer homered for the Cardinals in the second while Don Lock nipped Curt Simmons for a two-run homer in Washington's half of the first.

Lou Burdette Blanks Birds

Braves Beat Mike McCormick, 2-0

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Lou Burdette hypnotized Baltimore batters on five hits while pitching the Milwaukee Braves to a 2-0 shut-out over the Orioles before 2,015 spectators at windswept Miami stadium Sunday.

Both Milwaukee runs were scored off Mike McCormick in the third inning, when Ty Cline, Frank Bolling and Hank Aaron strung together successive singles after two were out.

The 36-year-old Burdette struck out two and walked none. The National League club's ace right-hander now has pitched 32 exhibition innings with a yield of only one rival tally. He permitted just one Baltimore advance beyond first base today.

With one out in the third, John Orsino doubled and McCormick and Luis Aparicio singled. The Birds failed to score however, when Orsino was cut down at the plate by Cline on McCormick's safety to center.

McCormick gave up five of Milwaukee's eight hits through the first four frames, but his second trial of his sore left shoulder, which hampered him all last season with the San Francisco Giants, encouraged the 24-year-old south-paw and Oriole manager Billy Hitchcock.

Rookies Buster Narum and Dave McNally blanked the Braves on three hits over the last five innings. Bolling, with a double and pair of singles and Cline, who connected safely twice, paced the Milwaukee offensive.

Injured Driver Is Satisfactory

CHICAGO (UPI) — Champion harness driver Bob Farrington was reported in satisfactory condition Sunday following his hospitalization after a spill Thursday night at Maywood Park.

X-rays Friday disclosed that Farrington suffered multiple injuries, including a broken collarbone, a broken bone in his right shoulder, and five broken ribs on his right side.

The 33-year-old ace from Richmond, Ohio, national driving champion in winners the last two seasons, is expected to be sidelined for six weeks.

Dodgers Cop Slugfest

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Rookie third baseman Ken McMullen slammed out three hits, two of them doubles, and drove home four runs to pace the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 10-8 victory Sunday over the Reds.

Altogether, the Dodgers pounded Red hurlers John Tsitouris, George McWilliams and Jim Brosnan for 12 hits. The Reds made 13 hits off Dodger hurlers Bob Miller, Ron Perranoski and Jim Rowe.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

ANNA M. SOLOMON VS. OTIS EDWARD SOLOMON

No. 26881 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII of the Complainant from the Respondent.

The Bill states that the parties were married on May 12, 1945 at Frostburg, Maryland, and that five children, namely, Rose Marie, age 16, Donna Ann, age 15, Paul Edward, age 12, Elizabeth Ann, age 11 and Anthony Wayne, age 10, were born of said marriage. The Bill further states that the Respondent deserted the Complainant on or about September 4, 1952, and said desertion has continued without interruption from 1952 down to the present time, is more than eighteen months duration and is final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation. The Bill states that the Complainant is a resident of Maryland for more than one year prior to the filing of the suit and the address of the Respondent is unknown.

It is thereupon this 8th day of March, 1963, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, Ordered that the Complainant cause a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks, before the 9th day of April, 1963, giving notice to the absent Respondent of the object and purpose of this suit and warning him to be and appear in this court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 10th day of May, 1963, to show cause why he should not be granted a decree of divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII.

"HEY ALICE! HERE'S WHY MR. WIL

Legislature Ends 90-Day Session Today

School Aid, Liquor On Final Agenda

BY HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Legislature winds up its 90-day session Monday with some quick final decisions on school aid, minimum liquor prices, small loans and state police salaries.

These were the chief issues still hanging as the General Assembly prepared for adjournment of its 90-day session, due under the constitution by midnight Monday.

Also in committee and an outside possibility for last-day action was the second effort to repeal Maryland's unit rule governing primary elections, which appears certain to be struck down in court if the assembly doesn't act first.

House Approves

The Supreme Court had not returned its decision voiding Georgia's similar system, based on legislative seats instead of popular votes, at the time the senate killed a previous repeal bill in Maryland. The house has passed a new bill back to the senate to give it another change.

Far and away the most far reaching issue to be decided on the last day is whether to adopt a new system of aid to education, which would cost $14.5 million more next year and be financed by lowering individual income tax exemptions from $800 to $600.

Maryland educators and other supporters of the plan succeeded Saturday in getting the house to override its Ways and Means Committee and substitute the bill for an unfavorable report. They mustered 77 votes, five more than would be necessary for passage.

The committee got some amendments adopted, however, which required reprinting of the bill over the weekend. This left the final house action until Monday, and the clock was running against the bill if it reached the senate.

The situation brought to mind the sudden end of the 1959 session, when the house adjourned abruptly before the senate was ready and a school teachers pay raise was left dangling and unenacted along with a veterans bonus.

Taxes Opposed

Gov. Tawes came out several weeks ago announcing his opposition to changing the aid to education formula at this session.

The senate planned to convene at 10 a.m. for its last day and the house was to come in at noon. The liveliest issue left in the senate is the house-passed bill which would require the comptroller to set minimum liquor prices. The bill, aimed at "cut-rate" store operations, exempts seven counties which have dispensary systems under amendments already applied by the senate. A further one has been offered to include beer.

The state police pay raise bill providing base pay increases ranging from $300 to $500 and additional longevity steps to benefit veteran officers, passed the house and may win approval in the senate, with amendments reducing the scales somewhat.

Expected to receive quick final approval in the senate was the state's $27.5 million capital improvements program, requiring only concurrence in minor amendments tacked on by the house.

Area Bankers Will Attend Convention

Three area bankers and their wives will attend the Maryland Bankers Association convention at Chalfonte-Haddon Hall in Atlantic City, N. J., on May 3-7.

Attending will be Hugh D. Shires, 911 Camden Avenue, vice president and cashier of the First-Second National Bank and Trust Company; John L. Conway, 1249 Braddock Road, LaVale, vice president and cashier of the Cumberland Savings Bank; and Ralph M. Race, Bealls Lane, Frostburg, president of the Fidelity Bank of Frostburg.

WCS Will Meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church will hold a meeting today at 7:30 p. m. The prayer group will meet at 7 with Mrs. Florence Lauder as leader. "A Pig In The Poke Sale" will be held following the meeting.

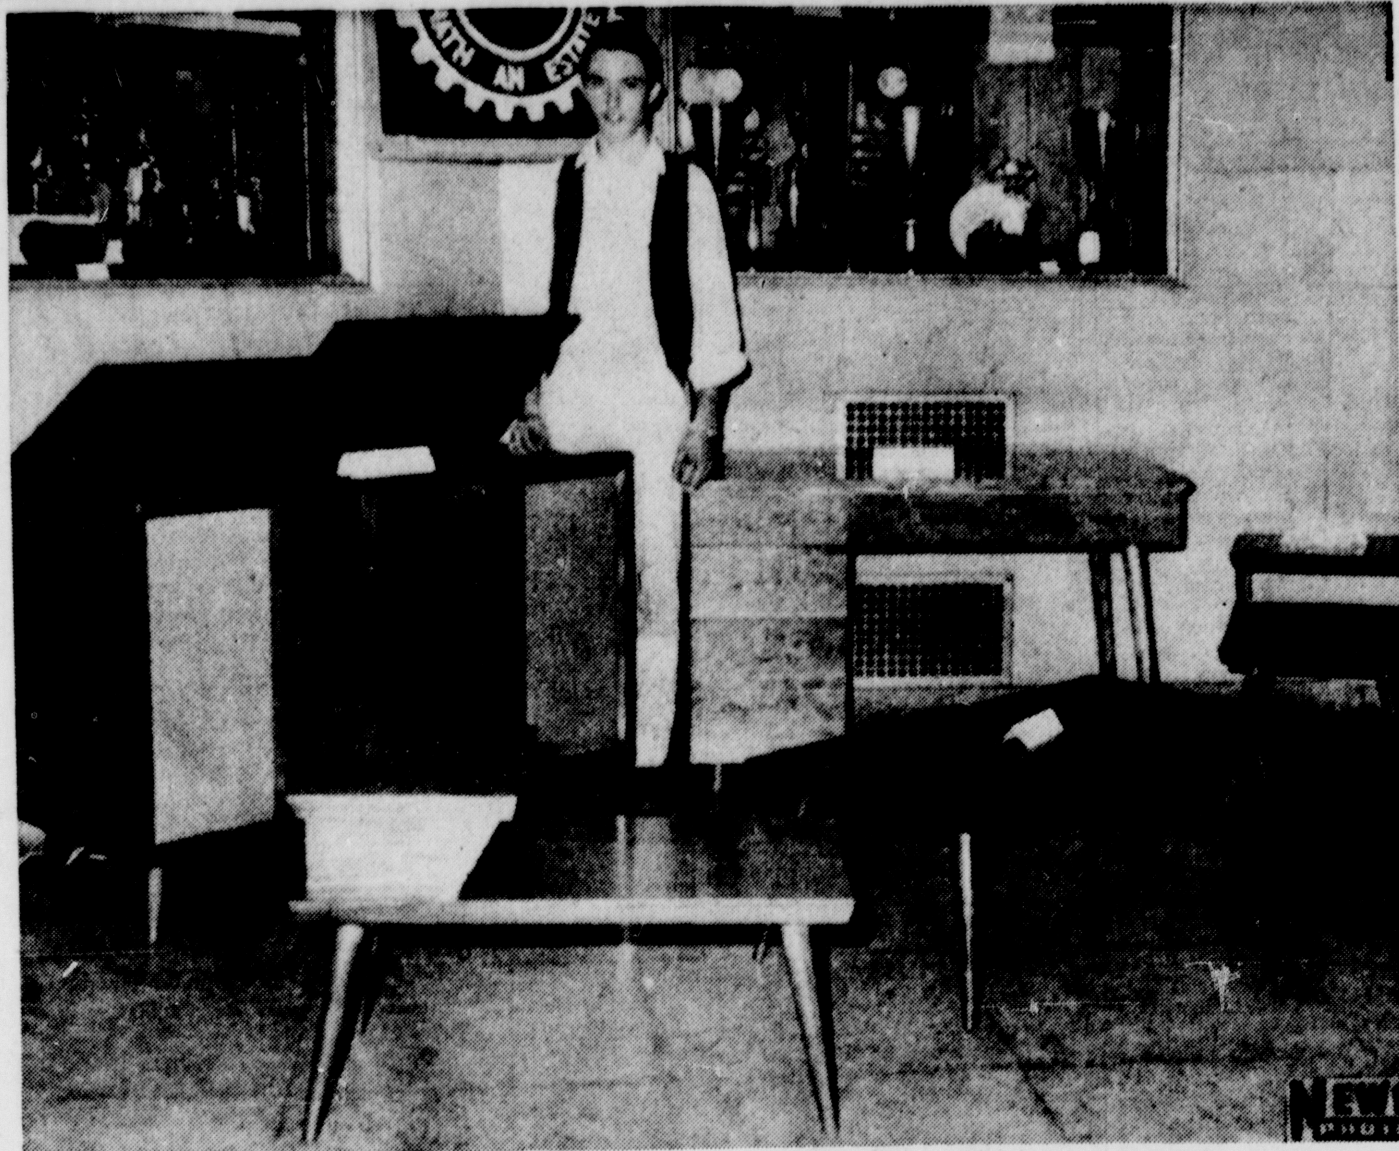

Labeling Of Gasoline Cited By Fire Chief

Local and area residents are being reminded of a law passed in Maryland which protects persons from accidental injury from the misuse or improper storage of hazardous household products such as cleaning fluids, solvents, fuel, etc.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker has received information from the State Fire Marshal's office in Baltimore on the Federal Hazardous Substances Labeling Act which became effective on February 1 this year.

The fire chief said special emphasis was placed on gasoline in the law, the major portion of which was in effect prior to February 1.

Mt. Savage Girl Wins Honors In Spelling Bee

Catholic War Vets Sponsor Event

Janet Meade, a student at St. Patrick's School in Mt. Savage, won the annual spelling bee yesterday sponsored by Victor Tambolles Post 1712, Catholic War Veterans.

Second place was won by Jane Reinhart, SS. Peter and Paul School, and the final two contestants spelled against each other for 15 minutes before the Reinhart girl missed.

Third place in the spelling bee for parochial school pupils went to Margaret Myers of St. Joseph's School, Midland.

The Meade girl will represent the local post in the state finals in Baltimore on May 12 and the winner there will compete in the nationals in June.

Brother D. Jeremy, principal of LaSalle High School, served as enunciator for the spelling bee which lasted three and one-half hours. Judges were Samuel Lucas of Pennsylvania Avenue School and John Snyder of Allegany High School.

The winning school, St. Patrick's of Mt. Savage, received a 22-inch statue of Blessed Virgin Mary, which will become permanent property of the school if it is won three times.

Other contestants were William Dudley, SS. Peter and Paul; Mary Frances Schwenninger and Daniel Wolf, St. Mary's, Cumberland; Margaret Everline and Steven Brown, St. Peter's, Westminster; William Dishong and James Seib, St. Michael's, Frostburg; Mary Ann Coleman, St. Joseph's, Midland; Bonita LaNeve and Rebecca Knierum, St. Patrick's, Cumberland; and Edward Barth, St. Patrick, Mt. Savage.

Leo J. Seibert was chairman of the spelling bee.

Six Frostburg Students Make 50-Mile Hike

Six members of a fraternity at Frostburg State Teachers completed a 50-mile hike over the weekend.

Henry Heller, Bethesda; Wayne Lewis, Frostburg; Wayne Carter, Brunswick; Fred Dayton, McCoole; Arthur Walker, Baltimore, and Robert Droten, Washington, started the walk from Frederick at 8:45 p. m. Friday and arrived in Washington Saturday at 12:15 p. m.

All the students are members of the Beta Pi Chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity. Some 19 youths started the hike.

Boy Scout Troop 8 Plans Canoe Trip To Hancock

Boy Scout Troop 8, sponsored by St. Mary's PTA, will make a canoe trip from Cumberland to Hancock next month.

Scoutmaster Donald H. Smith and Harold Lloyd, activity chairman, will be in charge of the trip which will begin on May 24. Mrs. Robert Moreland also will assist with arrangements for the trip.

Mr. Smith said scouts who are first class or higher will spend several days later this month at Camp Potomac to prepare for the trip.

At a recent meeting Arlyn Logan received the Star Scout Award and a merit badge for salesmanship, and second class awards were given to Alfred and William Fairall and Jack Humbertson. Tenderfoot badges were presented to Ronald Golden, Tim Donahue and Alfred and William Fairall. Donald T. Smith received a citizenship merit badge.

Attending the meeting were Boyd Dawson and David Day, members of the Cumberland Continental's, local Civil War unit, who displayed several old rifles and discussed the Civil War. The troop also received a blue ribbon from Alfred Fairall, institutional representative, for the troop's recent display during Boy Scout Week. The display was a replica of the chapel at Camp Potomac.

Harold Lloyd and Armand Pannone received a first aid award the troop won at a recent contest. Members of the winning group were Donald Smith, Armand Pannone, Robert Wempe, William and Robert King, Larry Winslow and Joseph Sirna.

Model Airplane Cited As Cause Of Grass Fire

A gasoline-powered model airplane was blamed as the cause of a grass fire which spread to a pile of old railroad bridge ties off the Hinkle Road yesterday afternoon.

Donald Ware, president of the Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company, said 10 volunteers responded at 3:30 p. m. yesterday and were on the scene about one hour and 20 minutes. He said the grass fire was no problem but the firemen had difficulty extinguishing flames in the old ties. About 800 gallons of water was used.

Firemen from LaVale and Cresaptown responded to a grass fire in the rear of the home of Harold Hite, Winchester Road, yesterday afternoon.

The man was reported to have been burning brush about 3:50 p. m. when sparks ignited some nearby grass burning about a quarter of an acre of ground.

LaVale received the initial call and alerted Cresaptown.

Allegany Band Wins Top Prize At Meyersdale

Mt. Savage High Second In Parade

The senior band of Allegany High School and Mt. Savage High School won first and second prizes respectively Saturday night in the Somerset County Maple Festival parade in Meyersdale, Pa.

S. Lua Sykes, director of the Allegany High band, which had 96 students in the line of march, said the prize was $100.

This year was the first year the local high school band entered in the parade competition at Meyersdale where thousands of people lined the parade route. Miss Betsy Ebert is drum majorette.

The Mt. Savage Band which in past years won first prize on two separate occasions, won the second prize Saturday, said Thomas Lewis, director.

There were 40 students in the line of march with Terry Crabtree as drum major. Also representing Allegany County were the high school bands of Bruce and Beall.

Some 15 bands were in competition with each other during the parade which had a total of about 56 units including volunteer firemen. There were also a number of colorful floats.

Soil Group Officials Reelected

Wilbert Paul of Mt. Savage was re-elected chairman of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District Supervisors, who met Friday at the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger at the Court House.

Others re-elected include Floyd Buser, Oldtown, vice chairman; Charles Harvey, Frostburg, treasurer, and Mr. Steger, secretary, who was appointed.

Martin M. Gordon, work unit conservationist, gave his monthly report at the meeting and cited that six new district co-operators have indicated they want assistance from the Soil Conservation Service.

C. O. Miller and Son, Midland, are interested in a basic conservation plan on their 378 acres of land; W. Thorpe T. Reikie, who has 377 acres on Martin Mountain, is interested in soils information, spring development and pasture improvement.

William D. Lambert, Dan's Mountain, who has 224 acres, is interested in woodland improvement and contour strip cropping; Thomas P. Moore, Flintstone, tree planting and improvement of wildlife habitat; Vernon D. Shriver, Flintstone, tree planting and a basic plan, and Harry W. Atkinson, Long Hill, a wildlife habitat development.

Revision of basic plans were made for Darby Healy of Oldtown and L. H. Twigg, Flintstone. Basic planning was done with Albert Ryan, U. S. Naval Reserve and J. C. Hamilton.

A farm pond survey was made for Albert Ryan, Midland; 1,200 foot graded waterway for John Carder, Oldtown and two acre contour orchard on the E. S. Higgins farm, Warrior Mountain.

Cancer Crusade Begins Today In This Area

Canvass Planned Late In April

This year's Cancer Crusade begins today and for the second straight year, The American Society's campaign slogan will be "To Cure More, Give More."

Robert G. Garner, Allegany County Chapter campaign chairman, announced that the annual Cancer Sunday house-to-house canvass will be extended two days. Volunteers will canvass the county three days, April 26, 27 and 28.

Mrs. Katie Kilroy is residential chairman and Mrs. Charles Langham, county chairman for the three-day house-to-house fund canvass.

Cancer is an emergency problem, Mr. Garner said. Every day lost in finding a cure for all cancer, or a cancer vaccine, or better methods of detecting early cancers, all of which are subjects of active research, means lives lost.

Unless we go all out on these and other essential projects, we are losing vital time.

This is one of the reasons we say "To Cure More, Give More," Mr. Garner said. He announced that the long-time slogan of the American Cancer Society, "Fight Cancer With a Checkup and a Check", would be retained as a campaign slogan.

Basically, however, he said, we are going to concentrate on "To Cure More, Give More", which mirrors the stepped-up drive to reach more people with the life saving facts about cancer; give more physicians the latest life-saving facts on detection and treatment of cancers; support more qualified scientists in their search for cures, better detection methods and preventives against cancer; give more service to cancer patients, to ease the burden on them and their families.

Pointing out that cancer cures in the past 25 years have risen from fewer than one in five cases to one in three cases, Mr. Garner urged all residents of Allegany County to make the 1963 Crusade the best ever so that more lives can be saved.

Cancer progress goes hand in hand with the amount spent to fight the disease, Garner added. Contributions will help conquer a scourge which, if present rates continue, eventually strike 46,000,000 living Americans.

Four Vehicles Are Damaged

Considerable property damage was caused to four automobiles yesterday afternoon in an accident at Memorial Hospital.

A car operated by Charles Henry Viny, 74, of Jane Frazier Village, struck a moving taxi and then collided with two parked cars, causing considerable damage to all the vehicles.

City Police Officer James Lough said Viny was pulling out of the entrance way to the dispensary when he struck a taxi operated by Marshall W. Wolford, 126 Virginia Avenue.

The officer said the Viny auto proceeded across the street and struck two parked cars owned by Wayne Lee Duckworth, 217 Glenn Street, and Mary Frances Adams, Calla Hill, Mt. Savage.

All the cars with the exception of the Adams vehicle had to be towed away.

Viny was charged with reckless driving and will be given a hearing Thursday in Trial Magistrate Court.
